27-28 October 2022

The Society of Construction Law (SCL) Astra International Conference 2022 is taking place in Paris: organised by SCL UK, in collaboration with the Association Française pour le Droit de la Construction et de l'Immobilier (AFDCI), and kindly hosted by White & Case, Reed Smith and Clifford Chance.

The Conference programme includes seminars on a range of current hot topics, substantive and procedural law, and a keynote speech from Sir Rupert Jackson. There will also be networking opportunities and a gala dinner. Private practitioners, in-house lawyers, construction experts, contract managers, construction professionals and claims consultants will all benefit from attending this conference.

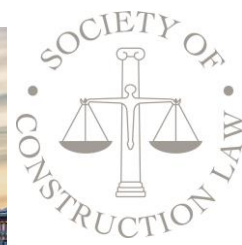

As an Astra event, the conference will cover topics in a manner accessible to those near the beginning of their careers wishing to develop their international presence and contacts, while also appealing to those with many years of experience.

We look forward to seeing you in Paris this autumn!
